

Talk:FMB120 First Start

Hello. We are using the FMB120 device. I would have some questions regarding this product.

1. Is it possible to run all the features of this at the same time from the battery? If not, what features can be used. 2. In this case, we consider using a larger backup battery. What is the maximum current to be spent while all features are active. How many mah a battery should we use to make it work one day?

Thanks in advance for your help.
